OUR MISSION To provide members with services that promote and support economic vitality as well as develop Shippensburg as a great place to live, work, play, visit and invest.

OUR VISION To be recognized as the premier membership-based organization for professional networking, development, and stimulating economic growth in the vibrant and prospering business community of Shippensburg.

Dear Chamber Members,

As you may know, I recently joined the Shippensburg Chamber of Commerce as the new office manager, and I couldn't be more grateful for the warm welcome I've received! Thank you all for making me feel so at home—it truly embodies our theme, "It Feels Like Home."

Now that I've had time to settle in and familiarize myself with the Chamber's mission, I'm excited to fully embrace my role in helping our members succeed. While event planning is a big part of what I do, my top priority is supporting you and your business in any way I can.

One way I've been assisting our members is by updating business information in our resource room. If you haven't visited our office yet, we have a great resource space where residents—especially those new to the area—can learn about our Chamber members. If you'd like to add or update your business information, I'd be happy to help!

Another valuable service we offer is posting employment opportunities for our members. This free resource can save you time and money when advertising open positions. If you have a job opening, just let me know, and I'll get it listed for you!

As I wrap up my first two months here at the Chamber, I just want to express my gratitude once again to all our members and the Shippensburg community. You've made this Newburg girl feel right at home, and I look forward to continuing to serve and support you!

Warm Wishes,
Monica Logan

SEVEN WAYS TO GO GREEN FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY

1. Replace your HVAC filter

When was the last time you replaced your filter? If you can't remember, there's a good chance now is a good time to do it. Generally, filters need to be replaced every three months, but factors such as climate, having pets and the age of your system can cause this to vary.

2. Install a smart thermostat

A smart thermostat can add convenience, generate savings and help you go greener. You can set it to adjust your home's temperature based on your schedule, and many thermostats can detect when no one is home and automatically reduce use.

3. Analyze your energy bill

Review past bills to better understand your energy consumption patterns. Understanding these patterns can help you decide when to operate appliances, whether to pursue energy efficiency upgrades and how to start reducing your usage.

4. Cut energy use during peak hours

In the springtime, the peak hours for electricity tend to be in the evenings, between 5-8 p.m. Consider going out to a park, restaurant or theater during this time to lower your electricity use. Cook on the barbecue grill and save your washing and drying for off-peak hours.

5. Upgrade to energy-efficient appliances

Look for appliances that are Energy Star®-certified. These appliances use 10% to 15% less energy and water than standard models, according to energy.gov.

6. Look for energy savings rebate programs for electric vehicles (EV)

This could be your year to go electric. The co-op offers a one-time EV incentive to help make these technologies more accessible.

7. Consider converting to geothermal for your heating and cooling needs

Geothermal systems are literally powered by the earth. These systems heat and cool your home using a piping system, referred to as a loop. Water circulates in this loop to exchange heat between your home, the ground source heat pump and the earth.

Changes ... and a huge step in a good direction

They say all good things must come to an end ... or at least a bend in the road. And all of us feel the call in our lives to move on, move up, move forward.

It's our time at Sanctuary Christian Counseling to transition to new leadership. Nothing dramatic will change – at least for now -- but with the new owners comes some forward thinking ideas, so look out in the future (in this space!) for good things to come.

But first, a little history ...

One question that I – Ellen Gigliotti - get asked often is why our name is Sanctuary Christian Counseling, and how we arrived at that. It's actually a God story, and I think some of you might be interested in it.

I was practicing marriage and family therapy in the prayer room at King Street Church, in Chambersburg, PA. I was pretty new at the job and hadn't given any thought to an "alternative" name for my practice. After all, I was practicing alone at the time, and it seemed like "Ellen J.W. Gigliotti LMFT" was enough. However, the former senior pastor of King Street Church, Dr. John Beukema, didn't think so.

He challenged me to find another name -- a name representative of what I envisioned my practice to be. I was puzzled, and not a little chagrined. It's tough to think through what exactly your passion is.

Finding words to describe it - finding ONE word to describe it! - is darn near impossible.

I thought and thought. My thoughts took me next door. At that time, next to my therapy room was the sanctuary at KSC. As soon as I sat down and began to pray about this, God made it clear that Sanctuary was to be it.

And Sanctuary it has been since then, whether located in King Street Church, in the King Street Community Center (where we were for several years), in the Scotland Campus or at our current – and long-term location at 9974 Molly Pitcher Highway, in the West End Office Complex in Shippensburg.

Sanctuary embodies what I have always wanted our clients to experience - a sanctuary from the challenges they face and a place where they can rest, be accepted, loved, understood and helped back to health.

And now ... a glimpse toward the future ...

Aryn and Jess Hundley, who have been working with me for some years, are the new owners of Sanctuary Christian Counseling. They are both dynamic individuals with a heart for God, great ability as therapists and a love for community and people. They will do great things with Sanctuary and in Shippensburg!

I will let them introduce themselves to you in our next article.

As for me, I'm working on a passion project – Retire + Thrive (www.retire-and-thrive.com). My aim is to help women therapists, entrepreneurs, business owners and professionals dream, plan and enjoy amazing and fulfilling retirements.

I have stumbled my way through the retirement jungle, finally finding my footing, and seeing an optimal future for my life. I help others do the same – without the stumbling! Although financial planning is NOT part of what I do (I'm not at all qualified for that) planning for an amazing retirement means so much more than money. I provide personalized guidance and support to help women nearing retirement create a future that unlocks their unique vision and helps them create fulfilling lives.

CHRIST AMONG NEIGHBORS

January-February 2025 Newsletter

Winter is blowing up a gale outside our windows as I write. Though the weather is cold, we are celebrating the warm love of our God during this season. Winter is a necessary time for our natural world to rest and rejuvenate.

Hopefully we are all experiencing this renewal!

Our neighbors in the Shippensburg area continue to experience economic hardships. We are helping as many of these neighbors as we can. In December, we helped 13 households with rent, 4 with utilities, 2 with personal needs, and 2 with gasoline, totaling $8,391.00 in aid. In January, we assisted 10 families with rent, 5 with utilities, 1 with car expenses, and 1 with gasoline, for a total of $5,552.27.

The Partnership for Better Health's Match Madness campaign is coming soon! If you would like to help support CAN with a financial donation, you may send a check made payable to the Partnership for Better Health (with designation to Christ Among Neighbors) and be mailed to the Partnership for Better Health, 274 Wilson Street, Carlisle, PA 17013. Donations must be received on or after March 1 to be counted. If you are contemplating a donation to CAN in the near future, you might want to hold it until March so that matching funds from the Partnership can be applied to it. We are thankful for all contributions and for your prayer support, as well.

CAN volunteers are busy working on grants to help fund housing, utility and other emergency needs for our neighbors. We are grateful to our volunteers who have helped with these grants.

We will be participating in the HOMES Resource Fair, which will be held at the Shippensburg Intermediate School in April. This is open to families within the school district and offers information regarding services available within the Shippensburg Area School District.

CAN is working with Shippensburg Community Resource Coalition and their interns to update our website. We are grateful for their assistance in giving us a new look.

We are still in need of new volunteers, especially on Saturday mornings. The schedule is flexible; you may volunteer for as few or as many days as you wish. We'd love to have you join us in working to help our neighbors in their time of need! If you are interested and would like to talk to someone about volunteering, please call 717 532 7577.

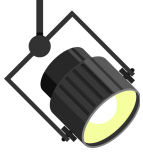

Also, please call if you would like us to visit your church to tell you more about what we do.

May God bless you richly as you serve Him!

But back to Sanctuary Christian Counseling and my final farewell to my Chamber of Commerce readers. As we move forward, Sanctuary's mission will always be to help our clients live our best lives. We will continue to help grieving individuals, distressed kids and teens and couples in conflict find peace, solutions and connection.

May our Sanctuary be a blessing to you in the midst of life's craziness. May you find the vision God has for your life. May we be able to help you do that.
